PADDY'S ODE TO THE PRINCE.

O, mighty Prince! I'ts no offince,
Your worship, that I mane ye,
While I confiss, 'twas ra'al bliss,
A moment to have sane ye!

That you should see the likes o' me,
The while I stood adjacent,
I don't suppose, although me clo'es
Was mighty clane and dacent.

Av coorse, ye know 'twas long ago,
I looked at jukes and such men,
And longer since, an English Prince
Begotten by a Dutchman!

But by my troth, and bible-oath!
Wid all me Irish shyness,
I've passed the word wid many a lord,
Much taller than your Highness!

Ah! well—bedad, no doubt you had,
In token of allagiance,
As good a cup as ye could sup,
Among them black Canajans;

And wha'-d'-ye thi ik of christian dhrink,
Now tell me that, me tulip!
When thro' a sthraw your Highness saw,
The flavor of a julep?

And, what is more, we've got, galore,
Such oysters—none can bate 'em!
Ye'll bliss the day ye crossed the say,
When ye sit down to ate 'em!

There's cruythers rare, and mighty quare,
In Barnum's great Muzaum,
By land and wather, and, for a qua'ther,
Your Highness may survey 'em!

Thim haythen chaps, the nayger Japs,
Wid all their curst expinses,
Just tuk their fill, and left a bill
At which the paple winces:

But then, no doubt, ye'll ride about
Wid Boole and all the Aldermen;
They've little sinse, but, for expinse,
There's not a set of boulder men!

Fernandy Wud has dacent blood,
And illigant morality;
And ye may swear our mighty Mayor
Will show his horse-pitality!

The soldiers all are at his call,
Wid captains to parade 'em;
And at the laste, ye'll get a taste
Of dimmeeratic fraydem!

But plase to note, ye're not to vote—
A privilege, be Jabers;
Ye couldn't hope, were ye the Pope,
Until ye've got the papers!

Well, mighty Prince, accept these hints;
Most frayly I indite 'em;
'Tis luck, indade, if ye can rade
As aisy as I write 'em!

And when the throne is all yer own,
At which ye're daily steerin',
Wid all the care that ye can spare,
Remember poor ould Erin.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

"Come, Joe, tell us what made you turn pale awhile ago when Jack told us he had seen a grave, and asked whose it was?"

"Bah, boys! turn pale, did I? There are circumstances in the lives of most men who live on the frontier, which, to have them recalled, will make them turn pale. And mentioning that grave and asking whose it was, recalled a fearful event in my experience. But as the night is young yet, I will tell you about it; and perhaps it will be a warning to you never to trust too much to a stranger, or throw temptation in his way."

Thus spoke your humble servant some months ago, to a party of prospectors, of whom he was one. The following is the story to which I alluded above:

Several years ago, I was out with a party prospecting for silver, high up the Gila river.—We had been sometime without meeting with any success, and were returning to Fort Yuma, disgusted with the country. We had left the Pimos village a day's journey behind us, when we fell in with a man travelling the same way that we were. He was without grub or blankets, and said he was going to California.—As we had some spare mules, we told him that if he could ride a pack saddle he could go with us as far as Fort Yuma. None of us liked the looks of the fellow. He had such a thoroughly villainous expression. But as he seemed so badly used up, we took pity on him and made him the offer that we did. He accepted without any hesitation. We found him taciturn, never speaking unless he was spoken to. When we camped he would take the saddle off his mule and go off by himself, never helping to get the grub ready, and when it was ready he would come and pitch in with the rest of us.

However, though we did not like him on his actions, we said nothing, thinking that he had some secret sorrow that we had no right to pry into. We had traveled two days when what I am about to tell you occurred. We had camped at noon, and as the weather was very warm, some one proposed that we should all take a bath. All had felt that it would be a delicious amusement, bathing in the shade of the cottonwood trees which hung over the banks of the river. We stripped instanter, and were soon enjoying ourselves gloriously. I had a belt around me with several twenties in it, and took it off to give me free play in the water. I laid it down on my clothes carelessly, never thinking of hiding it from any of the company, as they all knew that I had the money, and I had no idea that the stranger would be tempted to take it. As I came out of the water, I noticed the stranger looking very longingly at my belt, but thought no more about it.

That night, from some cause, I could not sleep well, and when I would fall into a state of unconsciousness I was troubled with such wild-like dreams, that I would rather I had remained broad awake. At last, about midnight, I went to sleep soundly; how long I lay I do not know but I wakened suddenly to find some one kneeling over me and very carefully cutting my shirt open. Now I have always had the power (call it presence of mind, or anything else) of comprehending in an instant all that is going on around me, no matter from how sound a sleep I may be waked. It is anything but pleasant to wake and find one's self in the power of a desperado who will have no hesitation in plunging a knife into your heart. I felt myself in anything but an enviable situation, knowing that the slightest indication on my part of being awake would cause the villian to give me between the ribs the length of his bowie, or the contents of his pistol. For, although I could not see his pistol, I felt sure he had it handy.

To secure my pistol without letting him know that I was awake, was a very delicate operation, and I attempted to accomplish it in the following manner: my pistol and bowie-knife were both under my saddle, which I used for a pillow, I threw my right arm up over my head, taking care not to touch the robber, and yawned as if I was half awake, but ready with my left hand to catch his arm in the event of his attempting to stab me. I had my eyes partly shut so that he could not easily see them glisten, but sufficiently open to see his every movement, which I could easily do, as it was a clear star-light night. On the instant that I moved, he raised his arm to strike, and I was nearly betraying him my being awake by throwing off my left hand, but some strong inpulse prevented me from doing it, and he held his knife suspended to give the blow had I made another move. When I threw my hand over my head, with the same movement I placed it under the saddle end on the butt of my pistol, which was cocked, ready for use.

I lay in that position for about half a minute, but it seemed like an hour. By that time I had power over my breathing, which on first waking came very quick. As soon as he thought that I was sound asleep again he lowered his hand and commenced operating on my shirt, clearing it away from the belt. Then I thought my opportunity had come, and tried to jerk my six shooter, but it was foul some way and it would not come. I thought my time had arrived, for as quick as thought he drew and struck with his knife. He struck at my throat. My eyes were wide open then, and I saw where the knife was coming. By a quick involuntary movement I threw myself aside, and he must have overreached himself, for the knife struck into the saddle, and so tight that he could not get it out. In trying to get my pistol my hand touched the cold silver hilt of my bowie.

Instinctively I took hold of it, abandoning the pistol and was nerving my arm when I felt the cold muzzle of his pistol against my forehead.—I struck out blindly, and, as I did so there was the stunning report of his pistol. How I escaped I do not know; my face was blackened with the powder, and my whiskers nearly burned off, but that was all the damage done to me. My blow, though struck at random, had proved a severe one. My knife had gone into the left side of his neck, inside of the collar bone. The knife must have reached his heart, for as I drew it out to strike again, he fell on me with his whole weight, his blood spirting all over my face. He gave one quiver, and stretched out his whole length, and lay perfectly still—stone dead! The whole transaction did not take three-quarters of a minute.

The report of the pistol had aroused the company, every man sprung to his arms. Some were looking for the mules, while others were asking who fired the shot, and where the Indians were. I called to the boys to take the dead man off of me, for I was as weak as a child. A couple of them did as I requested, while others threw fresh sage brush on the half smouldering camp fire, and we soon had plenty of light to see what had happened. I told the boys all about what had occurred. We found all the mules in their places, but mine, which was staked off about twenty yards from the camp with one of the boy's saddle and bridle on her. I went into the river and cleansed myself from his blood, and then sat down by the camp-fire, where I remained until morning, unable to sleep.

THE UNBURIED DEAD OF SYRIA.—Our Syrian correspondent writes that more than ten thousand human bodies still lie upon the side of Mt. Hermon, in full view from the Sea of Galilee and the Mediterranean, upon the Plains of Sidon, the ancient Phœnicia blackening in the sun, and their blood still cries out to heaven for vengeance. It is an Oriental custom to leave the murdered dead unburied until justice has been satisfied, and although in Syria the effect of the climate upon a dead body requires its burial within twenty-four hours from the departure of the spirit from its earthly tenement, these bodies have remained unburied and in a complete state of preservation.

In the court-yards of the palaces, in the barracks, and wherever the Christian has fallen, there lies the body now, still awaiting the vengeance of heaven upon the oppressors and slayers of the Christians at Mt. Lebanon. Without entering into an explanation of the physical causes which have produced this mummyfication, it is sufficient to say that the testimony of all confirms the statement. Wolves and hyenas have of course done their work, but in all enclosed premises the presence of the unburied dead remains a silent appeal to Him who declared, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord." Boston Traveller, Sept. 22d.

☞ The customers of a certain cooper in a town out West, caused him a vast deal of vexation by their saying habits and persistence in getting all their old tubs and casks repaired, and buying but little new work. "I stood it, however," said he, "until one day old Sam Crabtree brought in an old "bung-hole," to which he said he wanted a new barrel made.—Then I quit the business in disgust."

MY WIFE IS THE CAUSE OF IT.

It is now more than forty years ago, that Mr. L——called at the house of Dr. B——, one very cold morning on his way to H——.

"Sir," said the doctor, "the weather is very frosty—will you not 'take something to drink,' before you start?"

In that early day, ardent spirits were deemed indispensable to warmth in winter. When commencing a journey, and at every stopping place along the road, the traveler always used intoxicating drinks to keep him warm.

"No," said Mr. L——, "I never touch anything of that kind; my wife is the cause of it.

"I had been in the habit of meeting some of our neighbors every evening for the purpose of playing cards. We assembled at each other's shops, and liquors were introduced. After a while we met, not so much for playing as drinking, and I used to return home late in the evening more or less intoxicated. My wife always met me at the door affectionately, and when I chided her for sitting up so late for me, she kindly replied,

"'I prefer doing so, for I cannot sleep when you are out.'

"This always troubled me. I wished in my heart she would only begin to scold me, for then I could have retorted, and relieved my conscience. But she always met me with the same gentle and loving spirit.

"Things passed on thus for months, when I at last resolved that I would, by returning much intoxicated, provoke her displeasure so much as to cause her to lecture me, when I meant to answer her with severity, and thus by creating another issue between us unburthen my bosom of its present trouble.

"I returned in such a plight about four o'clock in the morning. She met me at the door with unusual tenderness, and said,

"Come in husband; I have just been making a warm fire for you, for I knew you would be cold. Take off your boots and warm your feet, and here is a cup of hot coffee."

"Doctor, that was too much. I could not endure it any longer, and I resolved that I would never touch another drop while I live, and I never will."

He never did. He lived and died practising total abstinence from intoxicating drinks, in a village where intemperance has ravaged as much as any other in the State.

That man was my father, and that woman my mother. The fact above related I received from the doctor himself, when on a visit to my native village, not long since.

A QUAKER CAPTAIN.

At the time of the Revolutionary war, when it was very dangerous for a merchant ship to venture to sea, a Quaker, who lived in Philadelphia, had a ship which was loaded with a very valuable cargo, and he was very anxious to have it transported to Boston. Having engaged his crew, and taken care to get a mate on whom he could depend to manage the ship, our friend set sail to Boston. After being at sea six or eight hours, the mate espied an English privateer in chase and fast coming up to them. He informed his Quaker commander of the appearance of the English craft, and the danger of the ship.

"What shall we do?" asked our friend.

"I shall fight the rascal," said the mate.

"Oh, no, I should advise thee not to fight.—But thee must do as thee pleases I shall go below."

The commander accordingly went below and soon the clashing of musketry and the shouting of the combatants, and nothwithstanding his friendly disposition, began to be interested for the safety of his property. He soon stuck his head up the companion way to see how the battle was progressing, and saw the English commander swinging his hat and cheering his men. Our hero could stand this no longer, and stepping back, he loaded his gun, and soon made his appearance again. Taking good aim at the British captain, dropped him and again retreated. Soon after, finding that the victory was turning on the Yankee, he came on deck, and stepping up to his mate, he said:

"Has thee seen anything of the little noisy fellow lately, that was making such a fuss after I went below?"

"No," says the mate, "he has been still since you shot him!"

Our friend justified himself in quieting a noisy fellow, and arrived safely with ship and cargo, but thought the mate did wrong to fight.

PHILOSOPHY OF RAIN.

To understand the philosophy of this beautiful and often sublime phenomenon, so often witnessed since the creation; and essential to the very existence of animals, a few facts, derived from observations, must be remembered:

1. Were the atmosphere, everywhere at all times, at uniform temperature, we should never have rain, or hail, or snow. The water absorbed by it in evaporation from the sea and the earth's surface, would descend in an imperceptible vapor, or cease to be absorbed by the air when once fully saturated.

2. The absorbing power of the atmosphere, and consequently its capability to retain the humidity, proportionately greater in cold than warm air.

3. The air near the surface of the earth is warmer than it is in the region of the clouds.—The higher we ascend from the earth the colder do we find the atmosphere. Hence the perpetual snow on the very high mountains in the hottest climates. Now, when by continual evaporation the air is heavily saturated with vapor, though it be invisible and the sky cloudless, if its temperature be suddenly reduced by cold currents of air rushing from above, or from a higher to a lower latitude, its capacity to retain moisture is dismissed, clouds are formed, and the result is rain. Air condenses as it cools, and, like a sponge filled with water and compressed, pours out the water which its diminished capacity cannot hold.

How singular, yet how simple, the philosophy of rain! What but Omniscience could have devised such an admirable arrangement for watering the earth.—Scientific American.

The following is a very significant epistle to be presented to the present degenerate age, which, if answered correctly, would be found to contain more truth than poetry:

Is there a heart that never sighed?
Is there a tongue that never lied?
Is there an eye that never blinked?
Is there a man that never drinked?
Is there a woman that never painted?
If so, their heart, and tongue, and eye
Must tell a most confounded lie.

THE ALCHEMY OF VICE.

You have heard of the story of the Italian artist, who, meeting with a child of exquisite beauty, wished to preserve its beauty for fear he should never see such lovelinss again. So he painted the charming face upon canvass and hung it upon the walls of his studio. In his somberest hours that sweet, gentle countenance was like an angel of light to him. Its presence filled his soul with the purest aspirations. If ever I find, he said, a perfect contrast to this beautiful face, I will paint that also, and hang them side by side, an ideal of heaven and hell. Years passed. At length in a distant land, he saw in a prison he visited the most hideous object he ever gazed upon—a fierce, haggard fiend, with glaring eyes and cheeks deeply furrowed with lust and crime. The artist remembered his vow, and immediately painted a picture of this loathsome form to hang beside the portrait of the lovely boy. The contrast was perfect. His dream was realized. The two of the moral universe were before him. What was the surprise of this artist, on inquiry into the history of this horrid wretch, to find that he was once that lovely little boy. Both of these pictures, the angel and the demon of the same soul, now hang side by side in a Tuscan galley. Kind reader, you need not travel to a foreign gallery to see the transforming power of vice upon the body. The broken-faced, wanton looking wretch of womanhood, was once a sweet, modest little girl, that blushed at the slightest indelicate allusion. That obese, bloated, brandy-burnt visage was once a joyous-hearted boy. What strange alchemy has wrought this bestial transformation? They have been in the hard battle of appetite, and carry the scars of many compains. In the basement cells of inebriety and saloons of licentiousness many youthful forms are sitting for their portraits. The demon artist of lust and intemperance is gradually moulding them into fiends.

You may, our young reader, steal secretly into these hells of harlotry. Your kind parents and friends may little suspect your wayward proclivities. But be assured your 'sin will find you out.' Vice cannot long remain concealed. The soul has no place to hide it. Soon the foul flame, through some rent or fissure of the body, will find expression. The inmost loves, desires and affinities of the soul, will mould the plastic boy into a corresponding likeness. The body is a flesh and blood statue of the spirit, and the countenance of flesh and feeling. An old poet has said:

"For of the soul the body form do take,
For soul is form, and doth the body make."

☞ As a weary traveler was wending his way through the mud in a far-west region of the country, he discovered a young maiden seated in the front door of a small log house. He rode up in front of the cabin, and asked the girl for a drink of water. He drank it, and she being the first woman he had seen for several days, offered her a dime for a kiss. The young maiden accepted the offer, and received both the kiss and the dime. The traveler was about to resume his journey, but the girl, never before having seen a dime, asked: "What am I to do with the dime?" "You may use it any way you wish," he replied; "it is yours." "If that's the case," said she, "I'll give you back the dime and take another kiss."

The Result.

Sufficient returns have been received to warrant the conclusion that Andrew G. Curtin has been elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a majority approximating 30,000. This result was entirely unexpected by the supporters of Gen. Foster, in whom they had a candidate worthy of better fate; and such a triumph was not dreamed of by the most sanguine and enthusiastic friends of Col. Curtin. Politics in Pennsylvania is not what it was in days gone by. Once the result of a Gubernatorial contest could be predicted in advance with considerable accuracy, but it now requires the count of votes to arrive at a conclusion. It is not our intention to comment upon the result at this time, more than to remark that "doubtful things are mighty uncertain" in politics, and that those who "bet their money on the bob tail nag" are not always sure of winning. We have official returns from but few counties, consequently we omit a table this week, hoping that previous to our next issue we may receive the official vote of the State.

The Congressional delegation from this State stands 19 People's Party to 6 Democrats.

On joint ballot in the State Legislature the People's Party will have a majority of between 45 and 50.

INDIANA.—In this State the Republicans elect their Governor by between 10,000 and 15,000 majority, and have a majority in both branches of the State Legislature, which will give that party two United States Senators, who are to be elected this winter, to take the places of Messrs. Bright and Fith, whose terms expire on the 4th of March next.

OHIO.—The Republicans have carried this State by 20,000 majority, notwithstanding they loose three Congressman and gain but one.

COMMITTEE MEETING.—The Reading Democratic State Executive Committee met in that city on the 12th inst., and adopted a resolution rescinding the action of the said Committee at its meetings in Philadelphia and at Cresson, and recommending the Democrats of the State to support the Electoral Ticket as adopted by the Democratic State Convention at Reading, on March 1st. Amendatory resolutions providing for the appointment of Committees to confer with the Constitutional Union and Douglas parties, were rejected. The Committee then adjourned.

Godey's Lady's Book for November is one of the richest numbers of that periodical. The engraving, "Crossing the Brook," is one of the finest and prettiest we have looked upon in a long time. The fashion plates and patterns for needle work are of the latest styles and almost without number. Certainly no one ever regrets the price paid for this Book, and those who may chance to see it, who do not take it regularly, must regret that it is not a visitor at their house. Price $3 per annum. ☞ The October number of the Student and Schoolmate contains much of interest to the rising generation, and every parent who can possibly spare one dollar, could not invest it in anything which would be of more advantage to his children than by ordering this little magazine. ☞ The Farmer and Gardener for October contains much of interest to the farmer at this season of the year. This work is fast rising in popularity and usefulness and will soon rank second to none in the country, as an agricultural journal. Price $1,00 per annum. Spangler & Saunders, Philadelphia.

☞ The Douglas State Committee met at Harrisburg a few days since, and resolved to recommend to all Douglas men throughout the State to vote, in November, the straight Douglas Electoral ticket formed at Harrisburg some weeks ago.

PENN'A R. R.—The Pennsylvania Rail Road Company has lately had the following notice posted in all their ticket offices and also in their passenger cars, viz.:—

"On and after October 7th, 1860, Passengers from Stations where the Company has an Agent, who fail to procure tickets at the regular offices of the Company, will be required to pay an excess to the conductor. The conductor will, in each case, give the person paying such excess, a ticket, which will be a receipt for the full amount paid, and will entitle the holder to receive a drawback, equal in amount to the excess paid, if presented to any authorized Station Agent of the Company. This rule will be invariable, and Conductors will be required to carry it out. Passengers from Stations where the Company has no Agent will be furnished with tickets by the Conductor, specifying the amount of fare paid, which ticket the Conductor will in all cases cancel and take up before the passengers leave the train."

Letter from Ireland.

Correspondence of the Altoona Tribune.

DUBLIN CASTLE, IRELAND.
September 8th, 1860.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I promised in my last that you should hear from me again this week, and in order to make good my promise I will now give you a description of the principal towns from Queenstown, at the head of Cork harbor, to Dublin, and further north. I will vouch for the correctness of all I write, and appeal to all Irishmen to bear me out. Queenstown was originally called Cove, and received its present appellation from the Queen, in 1849. It is built on the face of a hill sloping to the harbor shore. It is much frequented by invalids on account of the salubrity of its climate. I would not be doing justice were I to remain silent with regard to the harbor of Cork, which is one of the most extensive in the United Kingdom, being capable of affording shelter to the entire British navy. Into it Drake retreated when hotly pursued by the Spanish fleet, and Crosshaven creek was pointed out to me as being the creek into which he sailed and where he was so effectually hidden that the Spanish were completely lost in conjecture as to his whereabouts, and actually spent days in fruitless search for him in the river, concluding that nothing short of magic could have taken him so suddenly out of their grasp. The spot is to this day known as "Drake's Pool.

Black Rock is the first promintory worthy of note. From a distance its appearance is truly picturesque, presenting the idea of a formidable old castle, standing out on a tongue of land against the clear water of the Lee. Black Rock is supposed to be the place from which William Penn embarked for America. Here we enter a wide river called Lock Malion. Spike Island is opposite Queenstown and is the most conspicuous and largest. It is a convict depot, with accommodations for 2,000 convicts, I was compelled to get an order from the Governor before I could visit this island. Rock Island contains the powder magazine, which occupies six chambers excavated in the solid rock. I was told that it usually contains 12,000 barrels of gunpowder, besides other kind of amunition.

The next island is Hawboline, which contains the ordinance stores, an armory and a tank capable of holding 5,000 tons of fresh water. To this island I went without a grant.

Next we came to the city of Cork. Here we were greeted by about three score and ten beggars, who saluted us with "och, but would you see the brave Yankee boys!" "ain't they darling boys!" "welcome to Ould Ireland;" "may God bless yees;" "wouldn't you be afther giving a penny to a poor ould widow to buy some bread." To get rid of them I handed out a few English pennies, which I was tired carrying, they being a huge coin as large as a P. R. R. baggage check. I stopped at the Royal Victoria Hotel, in St. Patrick Street, kept by Mr. McCormick, and a fine place it is to stop at.—Better treatment you could not get anywhere. You will find a very polite runner on the little steamer that runs out to the ship, ask him for this hotel and he will almost carry you there; and to him I am indebted for much of the information I received concerning Cork and the surrounding country. This city is generally termed the capital of the South. It had long been the home of a Pagan temple on the site of which St. Fionre Barr, the Anchorite, from Gongam Barra, founded a monastery in the beginning of the seventh century. The Danes are said to have founded the city. The name "Cork,"—or "Corrach" or "Corcagh"—means "swamp."

I now start from Cork for Dublin, by cars, and the first place we stop at is called Blarney. Here we find Blarney Castle, which was long the residence of the young McCarthy's, Barons of Blarney. This Castle was built in the middle of the fifteenth century, by Cormac McCartney, surnamed "the Strong." It consists now of the massive dungon tower about 120 feet high, and another portion, less substantial, though almost strong enough to warrant the conjecture that before the introduction of gunpowder it must have been impregnable. It is almost as marvelous as the power attributed to the "Blarney Stone," that a few lines containing in themselves no merit save their absurdity, should succeed in gaining a world-wide notoriety for a place which otherwise would scarcely have been celebrated beyond its own immediate vicinity. The "Blarney Stone" had long been a bye-word among the Irish, but why, it was difficult to conjecture, unless the glib tongues of the natives of this locality were supposed not to be the ordinary gifts of nature. A curious tradition attributes to it the power of endowing whoever kisses it, with the sweet, persuasive, wheedling eloquence, so perceptible in the language of the Cork people, and which is generally termed "blarney." This is the true meaning of the word, and not, as some have supposed, a faculty of deviating from the truth with an unblushing countenance, whenever it may be convenient. It bears an inscription.

CORMACH MAC CARTHY FORTIS
Mi Fieyi Fecit, A. D. 1446.

As the kissing of this would be somewhat difficult, you, who seek for "blarney" honors, will be glad to know that at the summit, and within easy access, is another "real stone," bearing date 1703. I feel indebted, very particularly, to Mr. Blake, for the following verses which were written concerning this stone:—

"The groves of Blarney, they look so charming,
Down by the purling of sweet silent streams,
Being banked with posies that spontaneous grow there,
Planted in order by the sweet rock close.

"'Tis there the daisy, and the sweet carnation,
The blooming pink, and the rose so fair,
The daffodowndilly, likewise the lilly,
All flowers that scent the sweet fragrant air.

"There is a stone there, that whoever kisses,
Oh! he never misses to grow eloquent;
'Tis he may clamber to a lady's chamber,
Or become a member of Parliament.

"A clever spouter he'll sure turn out, or
An out and outer to be let alone!
Don't hope to hinder him, or to bewilder him,
Sure he's a pilgrim from the Blarney Stone."

Pretty well for Blarney.

About a quarter of a mile from the castle is Blarney Lake, and it is a smart piece of water. A tradition remains that at a certain season herds of white cows rise from the bosom of the lake to graze among the rich pasture which clothes its banks. Another story is that the Earl of Clancarty, who forfeited the castle at the Revolution, cast all his plate into a certain part, and that three of the McCarthy's inherit the secret of the place where they are deposited, any one of whom dying communicates it to another of the family, and thus perpetuates the secret, which is never to be revealed until a McCarthy be again Lord of Blarney. Other stories are told, and if you lend a willing ear and a three-pennybit you can get any number.

We now leave Blarney, and must be content with a passing view of the country, since I can not stop until I get to Dublin. Were I to intimate anything else of Ireland than that it is exceedingly beautiful, I would not be giving a correct description, as the tourist cannot help but be delighted. Now, for the first time, I saw the bogs—or turf lands. The turf is cut out with a long-handled narrow-bladed spade, and very much resembles rotten manure, while it is wet. It is wheeled out and stacked up in ricks, and in about a month, good weather, it is dry enough to burn. I took very good care to secure specimens of different curiosities for the Library Association. I secured a piece of turf and a number of very rare curiosities from the Giants Causeway, the greatest curiosity on the earth, of which I will give a minute description in my next. I must not forget to say that at a place called Mullinar, they manufacture gas from the turf—from the residue they extract a substance from which they make candles and oil—from this second residue they extract an alkali used by soap-boilers, and from this residue they obtain the best manure for land. Almost all towns, large and small, use gas. The turf gas makes a beautiful light. Gas sells here at $1,00 and $1,25 per thousand feet—it never exceeds one $1,25. This is quite a figure below the Altoona price. Can't give the reason.

Before I close this letter I must not forget to say in behalf of the Irish that they are the most kind and hospitable people I ever met. I never was treated better than I have been by them, and I shall ever entertain a warm feeling for the Irishman. But to-morrow the ship sails for America, and this letter must be mailed at 6 P. M., so I close by promising that you shall hear again from Yours Respectfully,

W. R. BOYERS.

Fire and Thief Proof Chests.

For the benefit of our business men, we copy the following from the Williamsport Press:—

The manufacture and sale of Fire and Thief Proof Chests has become a business of immense magnitude; and although confined chiefly to one leading house in Philadelphia, Safes of Philadelphia manufacture are now found in every part of the country. The great amount of security which is realized at so trifling a cost makes it a matter of immediate interest to every prudent business man. A certain degree of security can be had by insurance, but the best insurance policy is imperfect where the books and valuable papers are at the mercy of the devouring element, and this fact is so generally understood that no man who makes any pretensions to being a careful business man can afford to be without a Proof Safe, and hence the great extent of this department of manufactures. It may be objected that some "careful prudent men" will not risk the purchase of a so-called SAFE which, in the hour of trial, must prove itself to be a cheat—an imposition and fraud upon the purchaser—and the objection comes with considerable force since irresponsible parties are engaged in the manufacture of them. Every reputable business attracts imposters, and the manufacture of Safes is not an exception. Parties even from other cities have been attracted to Philadelphia by the well earned reputation of Safes manufactured there, and to a certain extent have brought the business into discredit.—But the man who purchases from a house long and well established, whose safes have stood the test of time and whose integrity commands the confidence of the business community can run no risk. And it may not be out of place here to say that Messrs. EVANS & WATSON are without a rival in this department of trade. Their salerooms at No. 304, Chestnut St., always contain a large stock suited in styles and prices to every demand. Their Safes have, wherever tested, added to their well earned reputation, and whatever may be said of other manufactures, certain it is that Evans & Watson's safes are what they purport to be and he who seeks security will not find it for a less price elsewhere.

Chairs! Chairs!! Chairs!!!

Concentration is evidently the secret of success and no one can deny this fact who will visit THE PREMIUM CANE SEAT CHAIR MANUFACTORY and WARE ROOMS at Nos. 223 and 225 North Sixth Street, opposite Franklin Square, Philadelphia.

Mr. I. H. Wisler, the energetic and intelligent proprietor of the establishment, gives his individual attention to the manufacture of this single article—Cane Seat Chairs, and can without doubt furnish the best Chairs for less money than they can be purchased elsewhere. His stock embraces the greatest variety of fashionable and elegant styles, suitable for Parlors, Drawing Rooms, Dining Rooms, or Chambers, also Ladies' Sewing Rockers, Children's Chairs &c., that is to be found in Philadelphia. His ambition is to furnish the best article for the least money and with shrewd business calculation he has located himself where rent is low yet in a central and prominent place. Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion.

Another Great Cure effected by Boerhave's Holland Bitters.

The wife of Pieter De Witte, living in Holland Town, Sheboygan county, Wisconsin, suffered much from Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion. She had been under a physician's care for some time, but the disease seemed to baffle even his skill. She purchased some HOLLAND BITTERS at our office, which has given tone to her stomach; her appetite and strength are returning, and we firmly believe that this is another great cure effected by your medicine.

We have still to record many wonderful cures effected by this remedy, but must wait another opportunity. One thing you can rely upon, what we have published are from persons much respected in our community, and are literally true. J. QUINTUS,

(Ed. Sheboygan Nieuwsbode, Sheboygan, Wis.)

☞ It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reasons are obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED BITTERS. The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful repenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible form of disease. Who would not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

Infantile Cordial.

We would request particular attention to the advertisement of Messrs. CHURCH & DUPONT, addressed to "Mothers." The INFANTILE CORDIAL OF DR. HANOK is a medicine of great celebrity, and the standing of its manufacturers will be a sufficient guarantee of the care taken in its unvarying purity. The "BLOOD FOOD" is for a class of diseases unfortunately very prevalent in this vicinity, and its high reputation should ensure a ready sale.—Willimantic (Conn.) Journal. ☞ See advertisement.

thereby securing faithful portraits and furnishing a unique and exquisite style of ornamentation of articles in domestic use.

In order to furnish facilities for the gratification of the popular taste, and to meet the wants of those patrons of the Fine Arts desirous of having Portraits on Porcelain, the Company have imported from Europe a collection of superior porcelain goods, manufactured to their own order, which they sell at cost prices.

As the American Company are owners of the patent right, and consequently the only persons authorized to use the process, they have determined, in order

LOCAL ITEMS.

Ho! for Salt River.—The manner in which that portion of the defeated party, who inhabit this "neck 'o timber," take the "drubbing" they received on Tuesday of last week, may be inferred from what follows, although we confess our inability to do justice to the last scene in the programme:—

As soon as the result of the election was known, the defeated party began to make preparations for emigrating to the head waters of "Salt River," a locality said to be set apart for the special accommodation of defeated politicians. Previous to the departure of the whole delegation, small bands started ahead, some to sell tickets for the trip and others to look out a good route.

On Thursday afternoon, four persons appeared on our streets, dressed in fantastical costume, and having with them a horse and dearborn wagon. The horse was one of the sorriest looking animals we have seen in a long time, and the wagon was not much better. On the side of the wagon was a board with the inscription "Passengers for Salt River." Three men were in the wagon, one of whom acted as driver, and for a whip he had a long bean pole with ten or twelve feet of rope to the end. Another announced their coming by blowing lustily on a tin horn, and the third lifted the tickets of passengers. The fourth man walked in front, and lead the horse. On his back he carried a knapsack filled with hay, a handful of which he pulled out and gave to the old horse each time they halted. This party created a vast deal of merriment, and played out their game very well.

On the same evening another party of some ten or a dozen made their appearance, having with them a horse and wagon, and martial music. Some half a dozen of them, painted like negroes, walked in front, and gave vent to their feelings by any amount of blubbering and crying and expressions of regret at having to go up "Salt River." In their wagon they had various kinds of provisions, and some of them carried their cabbage in their arms. This party also created considerable merriment and called forth peals of laughter from all who saw them.

But the final departure of all the emigrants, on Saturday evening last, "took down" anything and everything, in the line of fantastic displays, that we have ever witnessed. About half-past seven o'clock, the cavalcade appeared, preceded by "Madame Julian's Band," consisting of some ten or a dozen performers on tin horns, triangles, gongs, and other hideous sounding instruments. They were seated in a wagon drawn by two horses. Following them came the most fantastically dressed funtastics, women and men, that it is possible to imagine, and the query with us is where they found such rigging. Each man had a knapsack on his back filled with cabbage, potatoes and other eatables. Some carried dilapidated umbrellas, and one or two of the women carried babies manufactured out of pillows, with black marks for eyes, nose and mouth. We observed one of the women chewing cabbage leaves and feeding them to her baby, as she passed along. Quite a number wore high hats of different descriptions. One fellow had a hat about three feet long, manufactured out of tin, the top of which was perforated with holes, and inside of which was a lighted lamp. Another wore a hat made in the shape of a shell, which would measure a yard or more, across the rim. But we can not enumerate all the fantastical things of this description that we saw. Near the latter end of the procession, which numbered over one hundred persons, came a two horse wagon, on which a large fire had been kindled, and over the fire hung pots and kettles filled with cabbage, &c., which was being cooked for the emigrants.—Some of the party were crying, some laughing, some bidding farewell to friends, others cheering the desponding with the assurance that they would get back in three years, and others railing out against the "wooly heads" for sending them on such a journey.

As the Party passed Patton's Hall, they called a halt to receive their "passes" from our friend, G W. Patton, and obtain instructions in regard to the route, which he, of course, willingly furnished. While passing a point at which several colored women were standing, one of the party left the ranks, ran out on the side walk, caught one of the colored damsels in his arms, gave her a "buss" and exclaimed "good bye Susie." As the saying goes, this "brought down the house," and the colored folks not relishing the joke, began to leave. We have not done justice to the affair in the way of describing it, nor can we. Only those who saw the procession could form a correct idea of the manner in which the humorous and ridiculous was blended. Everything passed off in good spirit, and between nine and ten o'clock the emigrants quietly dispersed.

Almost a Fire.—On Thursday morning last, a partition in the back part of A. A. Smyth's house, in East Altoona, caught fire from a stove, and alarmed the women so much that they raised the cry of "fire." In a short time the engine was out and a crowd of people collected on the spot, but a few buckets of water, judiciously applied, put out the fire before the engine arrived, and but little damage was done to the house.

The Election.—The election in this place was hotly contested. The vote polled was larger than on any previous occasion, and the result different from that anticipated by any one. Even the most sanguine of the Democrats did not count on more than 100 or 150 majority for Foster in the town, but the count gave him 184. When the result of this place was announced, the town fairly rang with buzzas for Foster. But about ten o'clock, when the returns from Philadelphia and Allegheny county came in, the tune changed, and huzzas for Curtin were heard in all directions. This change was as unexpected to almost every one as was the result in the town. Curtin stock went down when the vote of Altoona was announced, and betting men in that party were a little shy, but it suddenly took an upward tendency during the night, and bets of $20, $50 and $100 were freely taken in the morning on an even election. A little later in the day a number of bets were taken at odds of 5,000 and 10,000 majority for Curtin. Still later a few were made at odds of 15,000 and 20,000 majority, and one, we believe, at 30,000 majority for Curtin. We are satisfied that more money changed hands in this place on the result of this election being made known, than on any similar occasion. The betting fever raged for a time, and quite a number on the unlucky side were eased of their loose cash. Betting is illegal, and only a softer name for gambling, and we were astonished to find some of our citizens indulging in it. If everybody's pocket-book had been like ours, we feel sure that they would not have went in very deep.

Sheriff's Sales.—Sheriff Sunk will expose to sale at the Court House, in Hollidaysburg, on Monday next, the following properties, viz.:

The right, title and interest of W. W. Jackson in a tract of 214 acres of land, in Blair township, having thereon a two-story frame dwelling house, a frame tenant house and a frame bank barn.

Welcome Present.—On Saturday last, we found at the Express office, in this place, a neat little box addressed to the proprietors of the Tribune, bearing the Huntingdon Express stamp. Not having ordered anything from that region, we at first felt a little dubious about receiving or opening it, thinking it either a hoax, or an "infernal machine." Taking courage, we began to reconoitre, and finally removed the lid. Fear now entirely departed and our eyes rested upon a lot of as fine grapes as were ever set before a king. They were from our young friend, West Holmes, of the H. & B. T. R. R., at Huntingdon, as clever a fellow as the sun shines upon. He has our thanks, although he did make us feel curious for a time, on receipt of the box.

House Breaking.—On Thursday night last, the house of our neighbor, Andrew Clabaugh, was forcibly entered by a young man of this place, who gives as an excuse for his conduct that he was under the influence of liquor and thought that he was going into "White Hall" Hotel, where he says he boards. His mistake, if such it was, secured him a night in the "Lock Up," and came well nigh costing him more dearly, as Mr. C. fired two loads of shot at him out of a large pistol, none of which, however, is known to have touched him. On Friday morning he was taken before Esquire Cherry, where he was placed under bail to appear at next term of Court to answer. Out of respect to his friends we have not mentioned his name.

Burglary.—On Tuesday evening of last week, the Lutheran parsonage in this place, occupied by Rev. Mr. Ehrenfelt, was entered by some villainous scamp or scamps, who carried away a $25 shawl belonging to Mrs. Ehrenfelt, a shawl, three vests and nearly all the underclothes of Mr. Erenfelt, a gold pencil and gold thimble, several likenesses, among which were those of Mr. and Mrs. E's parents, together with a good stock of eatables and other small articles. Mr. E. had put his goods into the parsonage the day previous, but did not remain in the house that night, having accepted the invitation of a friend to stop with him. No clue has yet been obtained to the missing article.

Correction.—We extremely regret that through false information we last week unfortunately coupled the name of Gen. W. H. Irvin, of Lewistown, with a difficulty which occurred in that place on the evening of election day.—We confess that we could not credit the report, yet when the facts as we gave them were detailed by one who claimed to have been a witness, we thought there could be no mistake. It turns out, however, that Gen. Irvin was not engaged in the difficulty. The fight was between Hawker and McNeal, and McNeal was cut on the arm by Hawker who was armed with a large knife. The cut was a severe one though not dangerous.

"Wide Awakes."—The Altoona club of "Wide Awakes," to the number of 60 or 70, celebrated the election of their candidate for Governor, by a parade through the principal streets, preceded by the Altoona Brass Band, and a bonfire on the hill above West Altoona, on Friday evening last. They made a fine display, and appeared to be in excellent spirits.

Now For Fun!—The inimitable "Cheap John," the fellow who makes everybody laugh whether they wish to or not, still holds forth in his room at the Red Lion Hotel, where he has just received a fresh supply of various kinds of wares, such as Ladies' Dress Goods, Hoop Skirts of all patterns, Glass Ware, Cutlery, and everything that may be called for. He invites the ladies to visit him. Now if the ladies all knew what a "phunny phellow" "Cheap John" is they would certainly go see him, and we guess they will anyhow. Satisfaction given or no sale is John's motto, so walk along.

Sunday School Exhibition.—We would again call the attention of our readers to the fact that the exhibition to be given by the scholars connected with the Methodist Sunday School in this place, comes off in the audience room of the M. E. Church this (Thursday) evening. The scholars have spent much time in preparing themselves to give a good entertainment, and such we feel sure it will prove to be. Let them have a full house, and thereby give them encouragement. Price of single tickets, 15 cents—tickets for lady and gentleman, 25 cents—children's tickets, 10 cents.

A Huge Fellow.—A few days since, Mr. Wm. Sellers left upon our table a potato, raised upon the farm of Mr. Bell, at Elizabeth Furnace, which exceeds anything in the potato line we have yet seen in this section of the country. It weighs within a fraction of two pounds. Can any body beat it? that's the question.

Invitation.—The ladies are respectfully invited to call at G. W. Kessler's old Drug Store, on Virginia street, and examine "Dan's" stock of Furs and Ladies Shawls, of which he has quite an assortment, and which he will sell at fair prices. Drop in, ladies, and look at them.

On the 4th inst., at the Lutheran Parsonage, by the Rev. Lloyd Knight, Mr. JAMES M. IGOU to Miss AMELIA HUNTER, both of Antis tp., Blair co.

DIED.

In this place, on Sunday, October 7th, 1860, ANNA E., wife of Mr. G. W. Cunningham, aged 23 years, 11 months and 15 days.

At the residence of his brother in Frankstown, on the night of the 24th of September, of palsy, Mr. PETER STEPHENS, aged 57 years; formerly of Huntingdon.

At Chicago on the 19th ult., Prof. J. G. MARTIN, formerly of Blair co., Pa., aged 28 years, 3 months.

At the residence of her parents, in Logan tp., Blair co., on the 13th ult., ISABELLA PRISCILLA, daughter of Samuel and Nancy McAteer, aged 3 years, and 7 months.

At Allegheny Furnace, on the morning of the 13th inst., of Consumption, Mrs. MARY F., wife of Henry T. McClelland, in the 38th year of her age.

Her death is felt by all who knew her; for she was highly esteemed for her many virtues; and her unostentatious, but genuine kindness made for her large numbers of friends.

The crowds who gathered to sympathize with her bereaved family and pay their last respects to her mortal remains, gave abundant evidence of this.

She leaves a very large number of relatives to mourn their bereavement. But the chief mourners were—an only surviving sister, a brother, her aged and deeply afflicted parents—but above all, the husband and father, with six motherless children. But they have the consolation to know that their loss is her unspeakable gain. She bore her affliction for the most part, patiently and cheerfully.—Occasionally a cloud intervened to shut out for a time the light of the Father's face—but only for a little while. The sun-set of her life was unobscured—the end was peace. We commend the loved ones left behind to the same grace and the same Saviour, in whom she triumphed.

JUSTICE TO THE SOUTH.
A NEW BOOK and one destined to create a sensation. Just Published.
THE SUNNY SOUTH
OR THE SOUTHERNER AT HOME,

Embracing Five Years experience of a Northern Governess, in the land of Sugar, Rice, Tobacco and Cotton. Edited by Prof. J. H. INGRAHAM, of Mississippi. Handsomely bound in one volume, 12 mo. 526 pages. Price $1.25.

Literary Notices from the Press throughout the Country.

The Sunny South.—This book is composed of a series of letters, written in an interesting style of a narrative, embodying the most romantic features of social life on different kinds of plantations. We can bear testimony, from our own personal observation of similar scenes in the South, to their truthfulness as here depicted. They are portrayed in a vivid, interesting style, and we would like to see the book in the hands of thousands of deceived people, who have no personal knowledge either of Southerners or Southern life, except what they have gained from partizan journals, or those who intentionally have written to deceive.—Daily Republic, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Sunny South.—This volume is in the form of letters. They give, so far as we can judge, faithful pictures of Southern life, and are penned without prejudice. They present scenes quite different from an 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' the pictures presented here are quite graphic, and we think the portraits painted are in very nearly natural colors.—Boston Daily Bee.

The Sunny South.—We have rarely peeped within the covers of a more appealing volume. Although not intended as an answer to the foul untruths in the Uncle Tom trash of the last ten years, it nevertheless does unmercifully hurl back to their source all lies of such a nature, and we are glad to believe that the book will be read in thousands of northern homes. The south also should take to it benignantly, for independent of its truthfulness and integrity it is one of the liveliest and most entertaining books of the year.—Times, Greensboro, N. C.

The Sunny South.—The enterprising publisher, Geo. G. Evans, Philadelphia, of Gift Book notoriety, is weekly issuing new works of interest, and spreading them over the country, and his system of transacting business may be looked upon as an institution, for diffusing knowledge, unequalled by any in the country. We commend this book to all.—Daily News.

The Sunny South.—This is a captivating volume, strongly illustrative of Southern life. The heart of the authoress is with her theme, and she carries the interest of the reader along with her, as she, in her amusing off-hand style, delineates the peculiarities of a Southern home.—Press.

The Sunny South.—Whatever bears the name of Professor Ingraham is sure to involve the elements of striking effect and a wide popular currency: and this is just the case with "The Sunny South, or the Southerner at Home," which appears from the press of G. G. Evans, under the editorship of the graphic Professor. It is vivid in style, keenly observant, interesting in plot, and in purpose and manner it obviously springs from a warm heart, and will be as warmly welcomed by a host of readers.—New Yorker.

GOOD BOOKS! CHOICE BOOKS!!
NEW AND ILLUSTRATED EDITIONS.
THE THRONE OF DAVID,

From the consecration of the Shepherd of Bethlehem to the Rebellion of Prince Absalom, being an illustration of the Splendor, Power, and Dominion of the Reign of the Shepherd King, in a series of Letters, wherein the magnificence of Judea is shown to the reader, as if by an eye witness. By Rev. J. H. Ingraham, LL. D. One vol. 12 mo., cloth, 503 pages Price $1.25.

"This is the third Volume, and the completion of a series of works by the same author, on the history of the Israelitish monarchy. The origin under Moses, was treated of in the "Pillar of Fire," and its great glory under David is treated of in this work, (The Throne of David,) while the decline of Hebrew power and the opening of the new dispensation meet their delineation in the "Prince of the House of David." These works are historically valuable, as handbooks of information relative to the scenery, geography and manners of the Holy Land. The style is interesting and powerful and the work leads us to the contemplation and study of the sublime language of the Bible and the great doctrines of truth it contains, without being, as such books too ordinarily are, either maudlin, stupid, dogmatic or conceited."—Boston Daily Atlas.

THE PILLAR OF FIRE
OR ISRAEL IN BONDAGE.

By the Rev. J. H. INGRAHAM, author of the "Prince of the House of David." One volume, 12 mo., cloth, 600 pages. Price $1.25.

"This work is designed to sketch the Hebraic history during the bondage in Egypt, the Prophet Moses being the central figure, and in a free and striking history of the period in which the writer gathers first, from the Bible and then from profane history a vast mass of material, which by his genius, is thrown into a fanciful narrative of the most attractive character which carries the reader along without diminution of interests."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

THE PRINCE OF THE HOUSE OF DAVID:
OR THREE YEARS IN THE HOLY CITY.

In a series of letters relating as if by an eye witness, all the scenes and wonderful incidents in the

LIFE OF JESUS OF NAZARETH,

From his Baptism in Jordon to his Crucifixion on Calvary. By the Rev. J. H. Ingraham, Rector of Christ Church, and of St. Thomas' Hall, Holly Springs, Miss. One volume, 12 mo. cloth, 472 pages. Price $1.25.

"In this work the author has succeeded in the bold and daring task of presenting the great leading historical parts of scripture in connection with secular history, so as to present the clear and life-like picture of those events as they might be supposed to appear to a casual observer.—The descriptions of rights and ceremonials, are spirited and comprehensive. The style is highly imaginative and attractive, and we predict that this volume will be as popular as the "Pilgrim's Progress."—Presbyterian and Evangelist.

ALL IN BOTTLES.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by Udolpho Wolfe, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrated Schiedam Schnapps. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speaking of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the city of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature of the certificate.—The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. For sale at Retail by all Apothecaries and Grocers in Philadelphia.

Read the following from the New York Courier:

Enormous Business for one New York Merchant.—We are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and Liquors, as pure as imported, and of the best quality. We do not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warehouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty thousand cases; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases—Vintages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, Sherry and Port Wine, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brandy, Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for bottling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in less than two years he may be equally successful with his Brandies and Wines.

His business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land take up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Liquors.

We understand that Mr. Wolfe, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant, should be sustained against his tens of thousands of opponents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitations, ruinous alike to human health and happiness.

CHILDREN TEETHING.

MRS. WINSLOW, AN EXPERIENCED NURSE AND FEMALE PHYSICIAN, presents to the attention of mothers her

SOOTHING SYRUP,
FOR CHILDREN TEETHING.

which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums reducing all inflammation will allay pain and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—never has it failed, in a single instance, to effect a cure, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "what we do know," after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful nurses in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in thousands of cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.—We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be sure—yes, absolutely sure—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the facsimile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world, and by G. W. Kessler and A. Roush, druggists, Altoona. Price 25 cents per bottle.

ONLY PREPARATION
THAT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF YEARS
AND GROWS MORE POPULAR EVERY DAY!

And testimonials, new and almost without number might be given from ladies and gentlemen in all grades of society, whose united testimony none could resist, that Professor Wood's Hair Restorative will restore the bald and gray, and preserve the hair of the youth to old age, in all its youthful beauty.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 21st, 1859.

Prof. Wood:—Thee will please accept a line to inform thee that the hair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not been able to obtain stuff for caps, neither have I been able to do them up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hodges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dollar bottle of thy Hair Restorative about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions and the bald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though short, it is coming in all over my head. Feeling confident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxious to persevere in its use, and being destitute of means to purchase any more, I would ask thee if thee would not be willing to send me an order on thine agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—"the reward is to those that are kind to the widow and the fatherless." Thy friend,

SUSANNAH KIRBY.

Lisonier, Noble Co., Ind., Feb. 5th, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognise me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving from them no assurance that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restorative, and as a result, have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude, for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article, I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances, who, I am happy to inform you, are using it with like effect.

Very respectfully, yours,

A. M. LATTA,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

Depot, 444 Broadway, and sold by all dealers throughout the world.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars a bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion and retails for $3 a bottle.

PROF. L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR!!

AN EFFECTIVE, SAFE AND ECONOMICAL COMPOUND,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR to its original color without dyeing, and preventing the hair from turning gray.

FOR PREVENTING BALDNESS, and curing it, when there is the least particle of vitality or recuperative energy remaining.

FOR REMOVING SCURF AND DANDRUFF, and all cutaneous affections at the Scalp.

FOR BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR, imparting to it an unequalled gloss and brilliancy, making it soft and silky in its texture and causing it to curl readily.

The great celebrity and the increasing demand for this unequalled preparation, convince the proprietor that one trial is only necessary to satisfy a discerning public of its superior qualities over any other preparation at present in use. It cleanses the head and scalp from dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, causes the hair to grow luxuriently, and gives it a rich, soft, glossy flexible appearance, and also where the hair is loosening and thining, it will give strength and vigor to the roots, and restore the growth to those parts which have become bald, causing it to yield a fresh covering of hair.

There are hundreds of ladies and gentlemen in New York who have had their hair restored by the use of this Invigorator, when all other preparations had failed. L. M. has in his possession letters innumerable testifying to the above facts, from persons of the highest respectability. It will effectually prevent the hair from turning gray until the latest period of life; and in cases where the hair has already changed its color, the use of the Invigorator will with certainty restore it to its original hue, giving it a dark, glossy appearance. As a perfume for the toilet and a Hair Restorative it is particularly recommended, having an agreeable fragrance; and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which, when moist with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form so as to preserve its place, whether plain or in curls—hence the great demand for it by the ladies as a standard toilet article which none ought to be without, as the price places it within the reach of all, being.

ONLY 25 CENTS

per bottle, to be had at all respectable druggists and perfumers.

L. MILLER would call the attention of Parents and Guardians to the use of the Invigorator, in cases where the childrens' Hair inclines to be weak. The use of it lays the foundation for a good head of hair, as it removes any impurities that may have become connected with the scalp, the removal of which is necessary both for the health of the child, and the future appearance of its Hair.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the fac-simile LOUIS MILLER being on the outer wrapper; also, L. MILLER'S HAIR INVIGORATOR, N. Y. blown in the glass.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above Hotel, and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and patrons in a comfortable manner, and he will spare no pains in making it an agreeable home for all sojourners. His Table will always be luxuriously supplied from the markets of the country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he throws open his house to the public and invites a trial.

MEDICATED FUR CHEST PROTECTOR, A SAFE SHIELD AGAINST THOSE fearful diseases Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and other affections of the Lugs, which arise from the exposed state of the chest, according to fashion and the continual changes of our Climate, for sale at the Drug Store of G. W. KESSLER.

MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS and PHŒNIX BITTERS.

THESE MEDICINES HAVE NOW been before the public for a period of thirty years, and during that time have maintained a high character in almost every part of the globe, for their extraordinary and immediate power of restoring perfect health to persons suffering under nearly every kind of disease to which the human frame is liable.

The following are among the distressing variety of human diseases in which the

are well known to be infallible.

DYSPEPSIA, by thoroughly cleansing the first and second stomachs, and creating a flow of pure, healthy bile, instead of the stale and acrid kind; FLATULENCY, Loss or Appetite, Heartburn, Headache, Restlessness, Ill Temper, Anxiety, Languor, and Melancholy, which are the general symptoms of Dyspepsia, will vanish, as a natural consequence of its cure.

COSTIVENESS, by cleansing the whole length of the intestines with a solvent process, and without violence; all violent purges leave the bowels costive within two days.

FEVERS of all kinds, by restoring the blood to a regular circulation, through the process of respiration in such cases, and the thorough solution of all intestinal obstruction in others.

The Life Medicines have been known to cure RHEUMATISM permanently in three weeks, and GOUT in half that time, by removing local inflammation from the muscles and ligaments of the joints.

DROPSIES of all kinds, by freeing and strengthening the kidneys and bladder; they operate most delightfully on these important organs, and hence have ever been found a certain remedy for the worst cases of GRAVEL.

Also WORMS, by dislodging from the turnings of the bowels the slimy matter to which these creatures adhere.

SCURVY, ULCERS, and INVETERATE SORES, by the perfect purity which these LIFE MEDICINES give to the blood, and all the humores.

SCORBUTIC ERUPTIONS and BAD COMPLEXIONS, by their alterative effect upon the fluids that feed the skin, and the morbid state of which occasions all eruptive complaints, sallow, cloudy, and other disagreeable complexions.

The use of these Pills for a very short time will effect an entire cure of SALT RHEUM, and a striking improvement in the clearness of the skin. COMMON COLDS and INFLUENZA will always be cured by one dose, or by two in the worst cases.

PILES.—The original proprietor of these medicines, was cured of Piles, of 35 years standing, by the use of the Life Medicines alone.

FEVER & AGUE.—For this scourge of the Western country, these medicines will be found a safe, speedy and certain remedy. Other medicines leave the system subject to a return of the disease—a cure by these medicines is permanent—try them, be satisfied, and be cured.

BILLIOUS FEVERS and LIVER COMPLAINTS.—General debility, loss of appetite and diseases of females—the medicines have been used with the most beneficial results in cases of this description:—Kings Evil and Scrofula, in its worst forms, yields to the mild yet powerful action of these remarkable Medicines. Night Sweats, Nervous Debility, Nervous Complaints of all kinds. Palpitation of the Heart, Painters' Colic, are speedily cured.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.—Persons whose constitutions have become impaired by the injudicious use of Mercury, will find these medicines a perfect cure, as they never fail to eradicate from the system all the effects of Mercury, infinitely sooner than the most powerful preparation of Sarsaparilla.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a reputation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the preparation, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom.

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trumpeting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and ague and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it, and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.
